This macro allows you to record and then replay your keyboard's keystrokes. This useful command will save you time, when you need to press more than one key with similar effects. This key macro can be done either at recording mode or at replay mode. During recording, you press a key, and this action is recorded. To replay, this action can be pressed by pressing one of the recorded keys. You can record any kind of key action, such as keyboard layout, shortcuts, windows etc. During replay, you only need to press the button to start the recording. After the macro is finished, all the keystrokes will be saved into a text file. Then you can directly use the macro to perform the same action by pressing the recorded keys. You can also play the macro by pressing the 'Play' button. But you cannot edit the text at replay mode. This key macro supports the following shortcuts: Windows: CTRL+X Windows: CTRL+C, CTRL+V Windows: CTRL+A, CTRL+Z Windows: CTRL+D, CTRL+R, CTRL+I, CTRL+J, CTRL+K, CTRL+L, CTRL+N, CTRL+O, CTRL+S, CTRL+Q, CTRL+T, CTRL+W, CTRL+Y, CTRL+Z Windows: CTRL+ESC Windows: CTRL+F, CTRL+H Windows: CTRL+G, CTRL+N Windows: CTRL+B, CTRL+C Windows: CTRL+V, CTRL+X, CTRL+Z, CTRL+Y, CTRL+I Windows: CTRL+W, CTRL+Q Windows: CTRL+R, CTRL+Z, CTRL+S Windows: CTRL+S, CTRL+Y Windows: CTRL+T, CTRL+R, CTRL+W, CTRL+L Windows: CTRL+F, CTRL+M Windows: CTRL+L, CTRL+P Windows: CTRL+B, CTRL+N, CTRL+I, CTRL+O, CTRL+P Windows: CTRL+N, CTRL+M, CTRL+O, CTRL+Y Windows: CTRL+U, CTRL+N Windows: CTRL+F, CTRL+R Windows: CTRL+G Windows: CTRL+W, CTRL+R, CTRL+L, CTRL+I Windows: CTRL+L, CTRL+N, CTRL+O, CTRL+P Windows: CTRL+O, CTRL+S, CTRL+Z Windows: CTRL+S, CTRL+Y, CTRL+R, CTRL 77a5ca646e

This week I'm going to be talking about the new Celebrity Apprentice, which is as good as the show is horrible. So without further adieu, let's get started! Episode 1: 'Denny Fussball' The episode kicks off with Donald Trump meeting with each of the celebrity contestants in order to assign them teams. Denny Fussball, Kenny Masters and Tim Gunn are all sent to Team Trump while Rick Deutsch, Robbie Rowe and Kat Von D are all given to Team Trump. If you're wondering, you're looking at the celebrities that make up the show's success (or lack thereof), but what really makes me sick is that no matter who wins this game, Team Trump will still probably lose. I'll get into that in a minute. Before Trump can assign teams though, he goes to the board and tells all of the contestants that the loser will be fired. It's at this point that we're shown another one of Trump's infamous press conferences, where he tells the world that he's fired Robin Anderson from his campaign for failing to mention that he was fired. Like I said, it's as good as it is horrible. What's great about this episode is that it's the first time we've really been introduced to the people that make up the teams. On Team Trump there's a Christian charity, a transgender drag queen and a contract killer. That's right, a contract killer. I'm not sure if he was brought in to intimidate the board or what, but I'm excited to see how the contestants work with someone who's probably not going to be their friend. The other two teams consist of a Hollywood actress and a model, which are just as hilarious as they are pathetic. The first challenge is a race. The celebrity contestant that raises the most money by the end of the race is deemed the winner. Well I was so bored by the very beginning of the race that I didn't watch it, so I can't speak on it, but I can tell you how the race goes down. At the end of the
