Working in this program is very intuitive, and if you have some previous knowledge of the 3D real time visualization tools that you currently use, you will quickly become familiar with this program. Real time render engine and animations Ventuz Engine is a VFX Rendering engine that allows you to create visually rich 3D content for real time rendering in your presentations and installations. Ventuz Design allows you to create interactive animated 3D content to fully integrate interactivity in your visualization and presentation. Interactive real time visualizations are all about the user. Using the Ventuz Designer you can add interactive presentations, author and design interactive presentations that adapt to every resolution and device, even phones. What makes this program so amazing is that you have the whole package in a single program. Design, Authoring and Animation. Real time animation engine You don't have to code anything. If you have a 3D model or scene, you can add it to your project. You can add animation, lights, cameras and even virtual reality content to your 3D content. It is all in the single 3D content management window. You can add and configure just the animations, lights, cameras or virtual reality content to your presentation. You can adjust the appearance of your 3D models by changing the material. You can change the color, and add textures, which add a unique look to your 3D content. Real-time animation engine You can change almost every attribute of your animation - transitions, frame rate, length of animations, repeats, rate of motion and much more. You can change these attributes in real time, without changing the source 3D content. You can use a variety of animated images (special 3D effects, text effects, different type of animations) as a source for your animation. You can add keyframes or tween frames that you can control yourself from one or multiple content managers. You can add audio soundtracks to your animations, including midi files. You can synchronize multiple 3D models to the same animation. This allows you to create complicated and realistic animations that contain and adapt to a great number of different models. You can add media content to your 3D content, and the program will render it in the background and play it in real time. You can create a number of different content managers in the editor and design and author your 3D content. Windows 7, Windows 8, Windows 8.1, Windows 10, Windows 10

Visualize multimedia, physical and virtual worlds by using Adobe Flash to create complex interactions between the user interface and the other objects in the environment. Reviews for Ventuz Express Designer I've used a number of different authoring programs for work, and this is the best one I've used so far. It's the only one that has the versatility to create multiple users, and multiple simultaneous users, allowing a number of users to simultaneously author and edit a presentation without causing any slowdown or errors. This is a truly professional authoring tool with a well-designed user interface and excellent support. - Lynn Loudon I need a new presentation software to replace our aging Sony slideshow technology. After a visit to presentation maker I decided to give Ventuz a try. It is a great presentation software, but I found a bug that needs to be fixed. Ventuz is much better than presentation maker in that it can have multiple simultaneous viewers. It is easy to use. It is clear and very visually appealing. I tried PowerPoint and the new presentation maker but they are not comparable to Ventuz. Ventuz has a bug that causes it to render pages at the end of a multi-page slide show as the previous page. This bug causes a problem if you click on a link to go to a next slide, and you get taken to a different page then you have not seen yet. The bugs with presentation maker were fixed a year ago. The solution to this bug should be easy. I was told by Ventuz that the bug has been fixed in the new update, but I have not tried the update yet. I was also told by Ventuz that the bug does not affect the market. However I don't want to trust the software that is causing me problems until it is fixed. Publisher's Description Ventuz is the easiest way to create real-time, multiuser presentations. With this program, no programming is required. All you need is an idea and an audience. You don't need to know HTML. You don't need to know Flash. It's all designed into your presentation. The Ventuz Express Designer is an integrated tool that can be used to create complex presentations that include real-time data. An interactive script allows the user to toggle between slides and features a complete event-based user interface. You can use the Ventuz Express Designer to create real-time applications that interact with your audience. Present presentations to your colleagues, show off your interactive presentations, or tell stories to your classes. Use it to show your own data, or to create your own (or your company's) demo. Adobe® Flash® technology is embedded into the integrated authoring, design, and animation tool. The components of Adobe Flash have been optimized for performance, and the program can display and interact with Flash® movies and Flash® documents
