Full review The comprehensive performance of players is a fundamental element of the FIFA series, and the official game of the World Cup 2014, now with HyperMotion Technology, is the best in this field. It allows for more immersive football, thanks to the increased speed of players and their improved actions, as well as their more accurate movements. FIFA World Cup 2014, also known as FIFA 18, works differently from other FIFA games. It's a mode in which you compete against the AI or a friend in a real tournament. The game won't be playable in offline mode, not even on PC. FIFA World Cup 2014 is known for its high level of realism. In this mode, this is even more evident, with the increased accuracy of player's movements. You can play FIFA World Cup in Single Player or create a team with your friends in the multiplayer mode. You can choose between 7 different national teams: Argentina, Australia, Brazil, England, Germany, Mexico and the USA. Team management The team formation screen is very simple. You only need to choose one player as goalkeeper and a small number of players for the rest. The game offers you a great number of formations to choose from. You can customize their formation, depending on the game mode you are playing. The player's name and stats are displayed on the left side of the screen. In the right column, you can choose a team equipment to start with. The next section shows the information about the players in your team. You can set the training level of every player, customize the team style, choose the player's behavior for both offensive and defensive matches, set the games you want to play and much more. You can purchase items for your team with the change of possessions and with your Team Management Points. These points can be earned by winning matches, not only by winning the game. At the moment, you can manage only 32 players in your squad (excluding the goalkeeper). The manager creates a match plan for your team. He can use up to 12 tactics that can be set for the whole game or individually for each player. The manager can do a great job in the strategy department, assigning tasks to your players. FIFA World Cup 2014 contains a new and very interesting tool to manage your players in a comprehensive way. The manager can tell your players what to do, where to position themselves
