Back row at Alloa Athletic farewell THE former manager of Alloa Athletic has talked of the “amazing” feeling of seeing the club being promoted back to the top flight. The Struan Park club were relegated from the top division for the first time in their history last season but, after winning promotion through the play-offs this term, have become one of the real force to be reckoned with in the division. Manager Peter Houston is also leaving to take up the same position at Airdrieonians – the only club in Scotland to have finished second. Iain McMenemy played for Alloa for 14 years and is now helping him settle into his new position. He added: “I have been promoted four times in 14 years in Scotland and it is one of my greatest achievements. We have all made a success of it but it is great for my son Jamie. “I was looking forward to playing in the top flight again. It would have been good for him to see.”Q: Is there a way to move a custom object into an array using a custom function? I've noticed there is a way to use custom parameters in functions. Myocardial infarction (MI) acutely activates both matrix metalloproteinases (MMPs) and their inhibitors, tissue inhibitors of metalloproteinases (TIMPs). We therefore hypothesized that the balance between MMP and TIMP activity would be related to prognosis. The aim of the present study was to investigate whether MMP-2 activity in the hyperacute phase of MI is associated with adverse cardiac remodeling. A cohort of 105 patients with ST-segment elevation myocardial infarction was prospectively studied for 6 months after the acute coronary event. We included 40 patients without left ventricular (LV) dysfunction (LV ejection fraction $\geq 50\%$), 37 patients with LV dysfunction (LV ejection fraction $< 50\%$).
